FESTIVALS AT PURI DURING 1950.

The following Press Communique issued by the Public Relations Department, Government of Orissa, is re-published for general information:—

"The Snan festival at Puri will be held on 31st May and the Nabakalebar, the Car and the Return Car Festivals will be held during the period from 16th July to 31st July 1950. It is anticipated that larger number of pilgrims than usual will visit Puri on these occasions. As cases of Cholera are being reported from various quarters of this State, it is apprehended that the disease may assume epidemic proportions during the festival period and spread far and wide if necessary precautions are not taken sufficiently beforehand. In order to safeguard the health of the pilgrims and the public in general against this dreadful disease, arrangements have been made to give anti-cholera inoculation, free of charge, by the Medical and Public Health staff of Government and local bodies at important Railway Stations, Bus Stands and along lines of communications, hospitals and dispensaries and other convenient centres in the districts and towns of the State. The anti-cholera inoculation has been made compulsory. It is also being arranged to make it incumbent on the passengers for Puri to produce the inoculation certificate at the Booking Office in order to be eligible to obtain the required railway tickets.

Intending pilgrims are requested to get themselves inoculated against cholera and to obtain a certificate to that effect, which will be given by the inoculating officers, free of charge.

The keepers of lodging houses and dharmasalas have been instructed not to admit persons who cannot produce the certificate of being inoculated with anti-cholera vaccine not later than 1st April 1950.

The intending pilgrims are hereby warned that they have to run a great risk if they attend the festival without being protected from cholera."
